GERMAN CARS KEEP SCHEDULE (London Times Phil. Ledger Cop. Cable.)

Berne, Dec. 19.—In view of the German shrieks about the shortage of rolling stock, it is interesting to learn from a leading German rallway magazine in December that in spite of the congestion on the rallways, military trains and transports for food and coal are being carried without difficulty.

Lodge introduces Resolution as to Proposed Destruction of Ships.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Secretary of State Lansing was asked to inform the senate, in a resolution by Senator Lodge this afternoon, whether the pease report that the American peace delegates are advocating the destruction of the warships surrendered to the allies is correct.

"If so," the resolution asks, "by what authority are the delegates to the page conference demanding the destruction of enemy property in part surrendered to the United States?"

The Man With the Club Foot

Reading About Him Will Give You a Round of Blood-Curdling Joy.

If you ever had your doubts as to what was meant precisely by the adjective "gripping" as applied to a tale of "love, intrigue and adventure," read "The Man With the Club Foot," by Valentine Williams, which will soon be published in The News.

"Gripping" means that your hair rises on end at the first chapter, and does not subside until the tale is done, and that whereas you may have begun reading sedately by the library fire, you end in the cold gray dawn, with the quilt around your shoulders and the candle guttering out its life in a pool of tallow.

You cannot put down a book when a chapter ends: What was I going to do about the body! Just th I heard a low knocking at the door. I remembered with a sudden sinking of the heart that I had forgotten to lock it." You cannot put it down and go calmly to bed. And each chapter leaves you in just such suspense.
